As Oprah says on OprahDaily.com, "In 2009, facing the loss of her house, this founder started selling her apple cakes to pay off her loan. It worked—and we know why. There wasn't a crumb left after our tasting."

Made with fresh, juicy apples, organic sugars, rich aromatic spices, and topped with a luscious cream cheese frosting, the Original Mortgage Apple Cake reflects the baking ethic instilled in Angela Logan by her grandmother, who taught her to use only the freshest, high-quality ingredients from her garden.

Twelve lucky readers will have the chance to win all 112 items on Oprah's Favorite Things List in the 12-Day Give-O-Way Sweepstakes (<https://www.oprahdaily.com/email/oprahdaily-newsletter-of-t>) which runs from November 10 through November 21.

The Winter issue of O Quarterly, featuring the Original Mortgage Apple Cake on this year's list, hits newsstands nationwide on November 7.

Mortgage Apple Cakes was founded in 2009 by single mom Angela Logan. Faced with losing her Teaneck, NJ home to foreclosure, Angela set a goal to sell 100 cakes in 10 days to raise money to save her home. Her story went viral, garnering national and international press, resulting in orders from across the country, far exceeding her financial goals. In 2014, a movie was produced based on Angela's inspirational story entitled "Apple Mortgage Cake", starring award-winning actress Kimberly Elise. Mortgage Apple Cakes operates a brick-and-mortar kosher bakery in Teaneck's town square, serving a loyal customer base locally and nationally. The recipe for all products, including the Original Mortgage Apple Cake, was inspired by Angela Logan's grandmother, who only used wholesome, organic, and natural ingredients.
